PARTNERED PARISHES NEWS

The Partnered Parishes THINK AND BREATHE Child Safety – KEEP CHILDREN SAFE.

UPDATED COVID-19 GUIDELINES 22nd APRIL

IT IS NOT MANDATORY TO WEAR A FACE MASK IT IS ONLY RECOMMENDED.

Close contacts of positive cases are to wear face coverings indoors, and to avoid “sensitive” or group settings. It is still recommended to wear a Face Covering when social distancing cannot be maintained over a period of time.

It is recommended that those who distribute Holy Communion continue to wear a Face Covering and sanitise their hands before doing so.

In accordance with the guidelines from the Archdiocese, Hand Sanitiser is still available in our Churches.

All Catholics in Melbourne continue to be dispensed from the obligation to attend Sunday Mass until further directed by the Archbishop.

We all have questions about faith, life and meaning, and we all deserve a safe space to ask them. Alpha is that space.

Exciting news!! We are planning to bring Alpha to our Partnered Parishes community, in particular, the parents of children attending our three primary schools. In preparation for this, we are inviting expressions of interest for positions on the Alpha Leadership Team. The only ‘qualifications’ you need are your love for our Lord Jesus and a desire to bring people together to explore the big questions in life.

If you are interested, please email AlphaVic3088@gmail.com or call Trevor on 0435 823 002.

EXPOSITION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT - Commencing on Friday the 3rd of June we will have Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament after 9.15am Mass until 3pm. This will take place on the first Friday of each month. Spend whatever time you can. All Welcome.

In the week of 'Laudato Si', May 16 – 24th 2022, the Pope calls for us to engage with the 'Cry of the Earth, Cry of the Poor'

It is vital for all of us to work together for all the people across our planet.

A new book in the St Mary's Parish Library inspires us by the agriculture work of missionaries Tony and Liz Rinuado in the deserts of Niger in Africa. This work has led not only to restoration of land, but the restoration of hope for the local people.

"The Forest Underground: Hope for a Planet in Crisis" (2022) – presents 'practical solutions to counter desertification, famine and despair'.

Rather than just planting trees which may wither and die without water, Tony's innovative methods, have meant that the tree density on farmland has become ten times greater, across 5 million hectares. See The Forest Underground: Hope for a Planet in Crisis by ISCAST — Kickstarter

This has doubled farmer's crop yields and income. By clever and careful selection of trees and shrubs, the soil maintains moisture and is regenerated. Tony Rinaudo received an Order of Australia in 2019 for this great work. What an inspiration to us all!

God of the poor, You have always heard and responded to the cries of those in need, as all people are worthy of your love and care. We commit to the call and challenge of this special week.

BIG GOUP HUG The Big Group Hug is a local charity that supports disadvantaged families in the community and beyond. LECTIONARY ART REFLECTION BY JENNY CLOSE.

This week's gospel reading contains two contrasting images. The first is an image of Judas walking out of the room where Jesus and the disciples are sharing their last meal together – we know that Judas is going to betray his friends. In Judas' absence, Jesus gives his disciples 'a new commandment' to 'love one another' – the second image. This love is a witness to discipleship, which entails commitment and constancy.

Fifth Sunday of Easter, Year C

15 May 2022

First Reading Acts 14:21-27

They assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them.

Paul and Barnabas went back through Lystra and Iconium to Antioch. They put fresh heart into the disciples, encouraging them to persevere in the faith. 'We all have to experience many hardships' they said 'before we enter the kingdom of God.' In each of these churches they appointed elders, and with prayer and fasting they commended them to the Lord in whom they had come to believe.

They passed through Pisidia and reached Pamphylia. Then after proclaiming the word at Perga they went down to Attalia and from there sailed for Antioch, where they had originally been commended to the grace of God for the work they had now completed.

On their arrival they assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the pagans.

Responsorial Psalm

Ps 144:8-13. R. cf. v.1

(R.) I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

or

(R.) Alleluia.

1. The Lord is kind and full of compassion,
slow to anger, abounding in love.
How good is the Lord to all,
compassionate to all his creatures. (R.)
2. All your creatures shall thank you, O Lord, and your friends shall repeat their blessing.
They shall speak of the glory of your reign
and declare your might, O God,
to make known to men your mighty deeds and the glorious splendour of your reign. (R.)
3. Yours is an everlasting kingdom;
your rule lasts from age to age. (R.)

Second Reading Rv 21:1-5

He will wipe away all the tears from their eyes.

I, John, saw a new heaven and a new earth; the first heaven and the first earth had disappeared now, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the holy city, and the new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, as beautiful as a bride all dressed for her husband. Then I heard a loud voice call from the throne, 'You see this city? Here God lives among men. He will make his home among them; they shall be his people, and he will be their God; his name is God-with-them. He will wipe away all tears from their eyes; there will be no more death, and no more mourning or sadness. The world of the past has gone.'

Then the One sitting on the throne spoke: 'Now I am making the whole of creation new.'

Gospel Acclamation Jn 13:34

Alleluia, alleluia!

I give you a new commandment:

love one another as I have loved you.

Alleluia!

Gospel Jn 13:31-35

I give you a new commandment: love one another.

When Judas had gone Jesus said:

'Now has the Son of Man been glorified, and in him God has been glorified.

If God has been glorified in him,

God will in turn glorify him in himself, and will glorify him very soon.

My little children,

I shall not be with you much longer.

I give you a new commandment:

love one another;

just as I have loved you,

you also must love one another.

By this love you have for one another, everyone will know that you are my disciples.'

Reflection by Greg Sunter

The passage from the Gospel of John actually comes from the Last Supper account, as is indicated by the opening line: 'When Judas had gone'. However, the passage is being used during the post-resurrection Easter season. The passage about being glorified can be read in this context as referring to the crucifixion that was, rather than the crucifixion that is still to come in the original setting. The reference that Jesus will not be with the disciples much longer can also be read as an indicator towards the Ascension. It is a clever liturgical use of a gospel passage out of its intended context.

The second half of the gospel passage is perhaps the more familiar section. It is a common text for marriage ceremonies. However, sometimes its selection is purely based on the use of the term 'love'. Earlier in his ministry, Jesus was asked which commandment was the most important. He replied that you must love the Lord your God with all your heart and that you must love your neighbour as yourself. (Mt 22) The 'new' commandment that he issues at the Last Supper is not so much a new commandment as a variation on a theme. The newness highlights the changes that are occurring in the small group of friends. His language conveys an imperative: you must love one another, 'just as I have loved you'. He tells the disciples – and us – that the way they behave towards one another must be with the same love that Jesus treated them. And the love that Jesus gave was the love of God for all the world. So the love that Jesus commands the disciples (us) to show one another is nothing less than the powerful love of God.
